

Storing the Anniversary Cake:

You first anniversary cake will be good if you will follow these instructions.

Place the cake in an appropriate size box.

Wrap the entire box with several layers of plastic wrap and aluminum foil. Place in another plastic container or wrap with several layers of plastic around the box to seal out any air.

When you are ready to eat your anniversary cake, remove the container from the freezer.

Allow the cake to thaw in the container with the aluminum and plastic still covering the box.

Do not unwrap or open it until it is completely thawed.

Once the cake has thawed completely, remove the cake from the container/box, unwrap and enjoy!
